

Assurance, Audit & Compliance

GHD Advisory addresses our clients' needs for outcomes that challenge the status quo in our rapidly changing business environment.

Our experience in design, delivery and operations allows us to combine new thinking, deep technical expertise, sound business acumen and practical real-world experience to drive efficiencies and growth for our clients across their businesses and asset lifecycle.

Beyond engineering

A respected operator in the provision of risk management and assurance services, GHD Advisory delivers services to a range of industries, utilities and public sectors both within Australia and internationally. We recognise that risk, assurance and regulation are intrinsically linked and provide integrated services based on the technical skill, operational and business know-how, management and experience from our 10,000 staff and 200 operating locations.

We understand that risk and business performance is influenced by multiple factors from assets, materials and operations through to control design in response to risk, people, culture and reputation. We help our clients understand and better manage these diverse and competing components to improve operational efficiency, provide stakeholders with assurance on operations and to maintain and enhance compliance and your businesses licence to operate.

GHD Advisory delivers services to a range of industries, utilities and public sectors both within Australia and internationally.

Whether the need is a whole of business program or a response to a specific business issue, GHD Advisory is well placed to drive value for your business.

Driving value for your business

In an increasingly regulated world your ability to efficiently and effectively manage compliance obligations is key to avoiding cost and distractions while maximising opportunities. We are well placed to support you in many fields including regulatory, environment, safety and asset management.

We harness the technical capability of GHD to provide you with the full suite of non-financial audit and compliance subject matter specialists to meet the assurance needs of your business. GHD's broad experience supports our client's in meeting their requirements through:

- Providing controls assurance to your stakeholders from the board room to the frontline.
- Looking beyond merely identifying your risks by providing confidence that risks are properly identified and assessed to minimise surprises and support you to achieve your objectives.
- Advising on the set-up, design, operationalisation and ongoing management of compliance obligations.
- Auditing the operating efficiency and effectiveness of your controls in managing risk beyond the numbers.

What does this mean for you?

For Directors

We support you in discharging your governance obligations by enhancing the reach and depth of your risk assurance and compliance beyond the financial audit focus. As external parties look more at your risk register in evaluating your governance framework the assurance that GHD Advisory provides gives you confidence that your framework will stand up to external scrutiny.

For Chief Executives, Chief Financial Officers and Executives

We provide access to a broad range of technical professionals either through a structured, risk based program or in response to specific risks that can extend the reach of your risk assurance into the operational aspects of your business. By using GHD Advisory you receive consistent and reliable results.

For Risk and Assurance Practitioners

Our service provides you with the means to confidently and reliably expand the reach of your assurance program into operational and non-financial aspects of your business.
